PUBLICATIONS - BOOKS

Tales of an Eco-tourist: What Travel to Wild Places Can Teach Us about Climate Change, Dec. 2017 (cloth and paper) with SUNY Press and Excelsior Editions.

- “Gunter takes us to the far corners of the globe to understand the lived experience of climate change. More than a travelogue, Tales of an Ecotourist explains how getting outside—out of our houses, immediate surroundings, and comfort zones—can awaken all of us to the realities and urgency of a warming world. This is a rich, beautifully written, and compelling book.”
— Paul Wapner, author of Living Through the End of Nature: The Future of American Environmentalism
- “In Tales of an Ecotourist Mike Gunter Jr. takes you on a remarkable journey, both figuratively and literally, as he recounts his experiences visiting some of the most amazing places on our planet. As a genuine, true-to-principles ecotourist, he has an important lesson for us: If we are to veer from our current path of global environmental degradation, we will have to come to appreciate firsthand its remarkable wonder and beauty.”
— Michael E. Mann, coauthor of The Madhouse Effect: How Climate Change Denial Is Threatening Our Planet, Destroying Our Politics, and Driving Us Crazy

Building the Next Ark: How NGOs Work to Protect Biodiversity, Dartmouth College and University Press of New England, Nov. 2004 (cloth), Aug. 2006 (paper).

- “This is an important and much needed book on a vital subject. Using thorough, hands-on scholarship, Gunter delineates the role of the NGOs as the spearhead of the global conservation movement. He delivers balanced accounts of their strategies, their relationship to governments and the public, their successes and their vulnerabilities.”
—Edward O. Wilson, Emeritus University Research Professor, Harvard University and two-time winner of the Pulitzer Prize
- “A well-presented volume that represents a substantial and timely contribution to the literatures on international organizations, political sociology, and environmental studies.”

—International Studies Review
